ON THE COVER, JACKSON'S UNDERGROUND RAILROAD

The DeLand family were leaders in Jackson's Underground Railroad movement. They coordinated with fellow activists in Parma, Leoni and Grass Lake from the 1830s to the 1860s. Charles DeLand wrote that freedom seekers would arrive at his family's home and barn "always at night." He added that freedom seekers were "secreted during the day, and the next night forwarded to the next station." This sketch, which shows part of the DeLand home and barn at the intersection of Mechanic and Franklin Streets, is based on actual incidents described in Charles' memoirs.

A lit lantern was used as a symbol in the Underground Railroad system to signify that a house was a safe place for those traveling.

HONORING OUR PAST

UNDERGROUND RAILROAD, JACKSON, MICHIGAN

The past and present unite in this photo of Jackson residents whose ancestors participated in the Underground Railroad during the mid-1800s. This state historical marker, which was unveiled in Mt. Evergreen Cemetery in 2019, honors the subjects' great-great grandparents and other individuals who contributed to the secret system.

The Underground Railroad was created when enslaved African Americans resisted bondage through acts of self-emancipation and supporters provided transportation, food, and other forms of help. This state marker is one of two in Jackson testifying to the community's vital role in the Underground Railroad—a system that also envisioned a community where diverse people could work together for the greater good.

Many resources are available for residents who want to learn more about the clandestine system. Experience Jackson offers self-guided tours for pedestrians and motorists through an App that takes users on a 3-mile circuit around downtown to landmarks connected to the Underground Railroad. The Book Cottage, 4200 Spring Arbor Rd., sells several book titles detailing Jackson's role in the historic network, and the website, jacksonmiundergroundrailroad.com, contains a wealth of information about the local events, people and places involved.

Linda Hass is a Jackson native who enjoys bringing local history to life. She has a master's degree in journalism, with a history sub-specialty, from Michigan State University. Her books, Michigan's Crossroads to Freedom and Hidden In Plain Sight, detail Jackson's pivotal role in feeding, lodging and transporting freedom seekers who entered this southcentral Michigan county in search of liberty and a new life. We would like to thank Linda for providing insight on the UGRR throughout this year's calendar.

Our History

JCF was founded in 1948 with two gifts of life insurance from the families of Lt. John L. Carter and Pfc. John Gilbert Wickwire, both of whom lost their lives in battle during WWII. Their families understood the importance of planning for the future and creating a legacy for their families. By naming the Foundation in your will, you can join a distinctive list of individuals and families who are doing the same:

FULL CIRCLE...THE DELAND POINTE NEIGHBORHOOD PROJECT

Linda Hass and Wendy Clow, Executive Director, Habitat for Humanity

As earlier noted, the sketch above was commissioned by Linda Hass and created by Brianne Witt, assistant art professor at Spring Arbor University, which depicts the DeLand home and barn at the intersection of Mechanic and Franklin Streets and was instrumental in helping freedom seekers in Jackson County.

In 2019, Greater Jackson Habitat for Humanity applied for a grant to help with the expense of pouring the foundation for one of the houses in their DeLand Pointe neighborhood project, a 6-house neighborhood located adjacent to the new Jackson YMCA. The site is also where the DeLand family farm stood in the early 1800's, thus the project's name is in honor of their family. The pictures at the time of this publication were taken after the Habitat for Humanity finished a week-long construction event in August 2021 to raise and enclose the first two houses. At the Foundation, we like to say, "The Community is our Foundation" and what better way to put those words into action than this project!

A Brighter Future

Nicholas & Smith Barbershop

Freedom seekers Richard and Emma Nichols (also spelled "Nicholas") escaped from plantations in Virginia and came to Jackson on the Underground Railroad in the mid-1800s. Richard established a successful barbershop downtown and Emma worked as a seamstress, as depicted in this sketch. Emma's grave in Mt. Evergreen Cemetery is today marked by a monument that commemorates her passage on the Underground Railroad. Although records are missing for Richard's burial, he is likely the "Nichols" family member buried beside Emma.

SPRING 1861 Sketch by Brianne Witt, assistant art professor, Spring Arbor University, courtesy Linda Hall

In 2021 Camp Liberty received a $10,000 grant from the Community Needs Fund. The camp provides inclusive outdoor recreation and therapeutic programs that aid in the reintegration of U.S. military service members, veterans, and their families. Their outpost is dedicated to bridging the gap between veterans and those veterans of lesser means with programs focused on building the morale of our homebound, homeless and financially strained veterans.

WE ARE UNIQUE!

GIVE

GRANT

Community foundations are public charities dedicated to improving the lives of people in a local area… for us, Jackson County. We are unique from other charities as we do not support one specific cause but rather invest in many new and existing programs that other organizations specialize in. One way we do that is by helping donors create endowment funds used to make a positive impact on our community! Most contributions are permanently endowed, meaning they are permanently invested to produce income. The income earned is then used to make grants to local charitable programs. That makes us flexible to address the emerging needs in our community as they arise. We also we provide neutral leadership and collaboration by bringing together a diverse group of community stakeholders to help solve Jackson County's most pressing needs.

CREATING A LEGACY OF GIVING...

The Dream Maker Fund

The Dream Maker Fund, a component Donor Advised Fund of the Foundation, was established to support robotics programs in our state. The Poppe family recognized how the emerging pandemic impacted small businesses in their home town of Jackson and wanted to make a meaningful impact. With the fund's flexibility, they were able to temporarily shift their grantmaking in 2020 to provide $1 million in grants to Jackson County small businesses. The grants provided short-term assistance to 297 Jackson-area businesses totaling $1,015,370 and positively impacted approximately 2,000 Jackson area workers. The Poppes stated they could not have done it alone. In addition to the $1 million from the Poppe Family, JCF received $15,000 in support from 11 different organizations – proving together, we can do anything!

Charles O. and Maritom Pyron Fund

In 1972, along with Donald R. Strack, Charles O. Pyron established ADCO Products, Inc., in Michigan Center, Michigan. Pyron's passion was aiding small businesses. Although a native of Jacksonville, Alabama, Pyron pursued his passion in his adopted hometown of Jackson, Michigan. He recognized that small businesses are not only the backbone of any local economy, but small businesses embody the dreams of their owners. During his career, Pyron worked to create an environment where these dreams can come true. Pyron created informal networking groups for local small businesses in addition to serving on local community boards. Pyron served two terms as president of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce and was named Michigan Small Businessman of the Year in 1984. He was also an avid sportsman.

Maritom K. Pyron currently resides in Scottsdale, Arizona. She honors her late husband's commitment to the community by supporting local non-profits in Jackson.

USING OUR VOICES... FOR CHANGE

In 2020, Family Service and Children's Aid received a $15,000 grant from our Tackling Systemic Racism grant round for their "Black Life's Experience" project. The project interviewed Black community members and leaders regarding their racial experiences in Jackson County. The results will be presented to a cross sector of community service providers (i.e. police, schools, courts, health care, social services, public entities etc.). The presentations will tell the lived experiences to the specific services and entities that participated. By creating community conversations, the Black Life's Experience project hopes to teach organizations and public entities how systemic racism has impacted real lives. By using the results of this qualitative study and quantitative data to stimulate conversations, the overarching goal for this project will create change within the various sectors.

This is an 1858 sketch of the building in downtown Jackson that once housed the American Citizen, a newspaper renowned for its passionate anti-slavery editorials.

Mr. Anthony Hurst

2020 Carter Wickwire Philanthropist of the Year

For the Foundation's 70th Anniversary in 2018, we began a new tradition that honors the past while recognizing our present day philanthropists. The Carter Wickwire Philanthropy Award (see February for more on the Carter Wickwire story) honors a living individual or couple for service as both trustee and donor to help grow community philanthropy in Jackson County. Meet our 2020 recipient, Mr. Anthony "Tony" Hurst.

The following excerpt is from Tony's nomination form submitted by Dr. Kevin Lavery, Emeritus Trustee. "In his will, Tony's father, Peter, made both a substantial donation to the Jackson Community Foundation and set up the Hurst Foundation. Tony would serve as a board member to the Jackson Community Foundation for approximately 18 years starting in 1969. He was probably one of the first YAC members as he was only 25 years old when he first started on the board and the other board members were senior business leaders. During those years, Tony was able to contribute as a board member, but being young and learning, was able to take the money that JCF was granting and follow and fortify the efforts with money from the Hurst Foundation. (This is probably one of the earlier examples of today's Funder Forum and collaboration that we seek to build with current grants.) This was an exciting time of growth in Jackson and many of the institutions and buildings that we take for granted today have their roots back to these days. The Potter Center for performing arts at the Jackson College, the YMCA, Lumen Christi, the Jackson Symphony Orchestra, and Ella Sharp Museum are just a few of the major projects that were helped through this collaboration."

2021 Recipient

Dr. Jerry Booth

Dr. Jerry Booth served as a Trustee from 1988 through 1997 and still serves on both the Finance Committee and the Board Development Committee as an Emeritus Trustee.

Dr. Booth had a long and successful oral surgery practice. After retirement, he became a volunteer for the Center for Family Health. His passion to help children was instrumental in starting the Martha Pfund Children's Dental Endowment Fund. Martha was the attendance supervisor at Jackson Public Schools from 1962 -1977 and solicited donations to provide dental care for needy students. In her memory, Jerry led the charge to start the fund to provide support for the Center for Family Health Dental Clinic for the dental needs of the children of Jackson County.

Most recently, Dr. Booth and his wife Jackie started a Donor Advised Fund which will provide a lasting legacy of philanthropy in our community for generations to come.

YOUTH ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The Youth Advisory Committee (YAC) is a youth-focused and youth-led grant committee within the Jackson Community Foundation. The YAC program was established in 1989 through a challenge grant from the Michigan Community Foundation Youth Project funded by the W.K. Kellogg Foundation. Kellogg's intent was to establish youth as philanthropists and build permanent endowment funds to meet youth-related needs within each community. YAC addresses the needs of youth in Jackson County by awarding grants to community organizations that benefit youth. At the same time, it provides the students involved in the program an opportunity to volunteer their time and talents to better their community while developing philanthropic leadership skills and valuable experience. Since YAC's inception, they have distributed over $1 million to projects that impact the youth of Jackson County!

A STANDARD OF EXCELLENCE

Excellence. Accountability. Impact.™

The National Standards for U.S. Community Foundations Accreditation Program certifies U.S. community foundations that meet and exceed federal and state law requirements in practice and by policy. The accreditation process is rigorous, and undertaking it demonstrates a community foundation's commitment to accountability and excellence to its donors, its community, policymakers, and the public. Community Foundations use National Standards to distinguish themselves from entities that provide similar services. Foundations that comply with these standards can display the official National Standards Seal.
